 WAGS tri-fold brochure

Apr 1st, 2012, 2:26pm

I'd like to introduce the new tri-fold WAGS brochure. The public and WAGS membership are encouraged to download, forward, print and deposit these in all your favorite antique locations. Attach them to your Ebay auctions, put them up on bulletin boards, etc.

Let me know if you have a problem with printing, as I have put security on these, so that they can not be changed, only printed in high resolution and also low resolution.

Greg,

Looks very well put together.....will be printing some copies for local distribution.

Thanks for the time and effort.

Just in time for the flea market season. I'll be sure to have plenty on hand when Deb and I head out to do some buying, and selling. Not to mention dropping a few at the auction houses, and antique stores we visit. Thanks Greg. Very well done.

This was a group project and interactions with the Board, but it has been a long, long, long time in coming. I can't take any credit for it

Well then, I'll have to add a big ole' thank you to all involved. 😊 I know some of these made it to an auction in PA yesterday. Cheryl Watson called and talked to me about the auction, and that she had shown them to Larry and Sue Foxx. They were very impressed, and Cheryl gave them some to put in their booth at the antique mall in Carlisle. According to Cheryl, Larry was handing them out at the auction also. Something like this should help the membership grow quite a bit.

Greg and all the others involved. Thank you for a job very well done. I too will be doing some flea markets and as always, antique stores and malls this spring and summer. Will be passing them out as I can.

Also thanks to Chuck, Cheryl and the Foxx's (if Cheryl or Chuck see them thank them for me) for getting these started in East-Central Pa. I will do my best to get them out in WPa.

Have a great day!

We still have an "issue". The registration on the FORUM entitles EVERYONE to be a Visitor of the WAGS forum. Visitors get to see about 25% of the content, but that does not make you a "MEMBER" of WAGS. Membership in WAGS, a non-profit organization, is only obtained by filling out a membership application, paying dues and being approved by the Membership Committee.

You must be a dues paying member of WAGS in order to go to the Convention in Ohio this year!! We have had several folks in the past walk into our convention and then turned away in anger, as they thought they could just walk in, register, and enjoy the iron, educational classes, etc. It WILL NOT happen, as we have rules that must be followed that are laid out in the bylaws and also the rules of the HOTEL/Convention Center that we rent.

The best way of knowing your standing on the FORUM? Look at your name, what color is it? If it is TAN, green or pink, you are not a WAGS member.

So if you want to be a member and attend this year's Convention, you better get that application filled out and dues paid ASAP!! Link to membership
